

ROCK CLIMBING CAMP

This program will be four days long. Each day we will head to Pawtuckaway State Park to one of the most popular outdoor climbing spots in Southern New England. Everyday we will go to a different part of the park and you will have a chance to climb a different site each day. The camp will teach you the techniques of outdoor climbing, belaying, rappelling, and rock climbing in a safe and fun environment. This camp offers something new and exciting and to get people of all levels involved and educated about outdoor rock climbing. Included in the camp is transportation, all equipment, all fees, climbing instructions and supervision. Parents are welcome to be part of this program. What's needed: lunch, water, raincoat, and a willingness to learn.
